Links from websites to National Association of State Boating Law Administrators Association, Inc. (NASBLA) website

Information presented on the NASBLA website is information that supports the safe and responsible use of our waterways or promotes boating safety. Websites that want to help spread the word of safer boating may link to the NASBLA's website. However, the contents of the website may not imply endorsement by NASBLA of products or services. For further information contact the Deputy Director of the National Association of State Boating Law Administrators Association, Inc.

The use of NASBLA logos and graphics is governed by our Policy on the Use of NASBLA Logo. Under no circumstance may the NASBLA logos and graphics be used to create a website that gives the appearance and general look and feel of the official NASBLA website.

Links from the NASBLA website to other websites

Member organizations will be linked from the NASBLA website to their homepage from the links listings. Member links may be provided elsewhere throughout the website at the discretion of NASBLA. NASBLA may, at its sole discretion, link to other organizations that supply a service to the boating safety community and support recreational boating safety public policy. Deputy Director of NASBLA determines to link from NASBLA to a non-member website on an individual case basis. Decisions to link to external sites are made after assessing relevance to the NASBLA mission, benefit to NASBLA's membership and maintenance factors and/or relationship to NASBLA.
